PREFACE

This family history, such as it is, in rather brief outline has been accumulated from time to time for a number of years, is far from complete and should be filled in by information derived from any of the family who know the facts. Time will not permit of writing specifically to many or to make search of records, public, or private, in all parts of the Country and I invite therefore voluntary contributions of data to be included therein; records of Births, Marriages and Deaths, corrections or additions and any items of interest.

The tabulated pedigree attached to this History has the family tree arranged in order of descent and each generation is in distinct order. For convenience of reference I have given each individual a number, the first figure of which represents the number of steps or generations removed from the common ancestor; thus #625 represents an individual in the 6th generation. The remaining figures of the number will roughly indicate the grouping within which the person is included thus:- 1 to 69 in the Wisconsin Group, being numerically the largest; 70 to 79, in the St. Louis Group and 80 to 99, in the Lengerich Group. The location of the Groups are entirely arbitrary for convenience in making the tabulation. And, wherever in the 7th or subsequent generations, three-figure numbers are not available for numbering new arrivals or additions it will only be necessary to add a fourth numeral to fit the approximate group location, since the first figure indicates the proper generation. In the historical record the progeny of each parent is distinguished by numbers or letters that correspond in all of the families according to generations as will be better understood after examining the same; that is to say, all the third generation or all those individually numbered in the 300's have *1, *2, *3 etc., and those in the 400's have A. B. C. etc., - those in the 500's have 1, 2, 3, etc. - those in the 600's have a, b, c, etc., - and those in the 700's have a1, a2, a3 or b1, b2, b3 and so on. Wherever a certain line is ended or extinct, where there are no children to carry on or when there is no record of the continuance - the termination of that line is indicated by XX.

PREFACE

This family history, such as it is, in rather brief outline has been accumulated from time to time for a number of years, in far from complete and should be filled in by information derived from any of the family who know the facts. Time will not permit of writing especially to many or to make search of records, public, or private, in all parts of the country and I invite therefore voluntary contributions of data to be included therein; records of births, marriages and deaths, corrections or additions and any items of interest.

The tabulated pedigree attached to this history has the family tree arranged in order of descent and each generation is in distinct order. For convenience of reference I have given each individual a number, the first figure of which represents the number of steps or generations removed from the common ancestor; thus 4625 represents an individual in the 6th generation. The remaining figures of the number will roughly indicate the grouping within which the person is included thus: 1 to 99 in the Wisconsin group, being numerically the largest; 100 to 199, in the St. Louis group and 200 to 299, in the Lexington group. The location of the groups are entirely arbitrary for convenience in making the tabulation. And, wherever in the 7th or subsequent generations, three-figure numbers are not available for numbering new arrivals or additions it will only be necessary to add a fourth numeral to fit the approximate group location, since the first figure indicates the proper generation. In the historical record the progeny of each parent is distinguished by numbers or letters that correspond in all of the families according to generations as will be better understood after examining the same; that is to say, all the third generation or all those individually numbered in the 300's have A, B, C, etc., and those in the 400's have A, B, C, etc., - those in the 500's have 1, 2, 3, etc., - those in the 600's have A, B, C, etc., - and those in the 700's have A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z, and so on. Wherever a certain line is ended or extinct, where there are no children to carry on or when there is no record of the continuance - the termination of that line is indicated by X.

The Record is based on information on hand as of January 1, 1933 and of course is subject to change by further data, subsequent events of marriage and births, etc.

Dated May 1, 1933.

FAMILY HISTORY AND GENEALOGY

Among the Records of the former Tecklenburg and Lengerich Governments in Westphalia, Germany (that is to say the Prussian Government after the Marldom of Tecklenburg became part of Prussia in 1707) and which records are now deposited in the Government Archives at Munster, there is on file a document entitled "Miscellaneous Records No. 12 Acta Communia - Relating to the Partition of the "Grasanger Riedbruck (Pasture-Field Rietbrock) "bei" Lengerich 1797. It is there established that the so-called "Riedebrocksche Stätte" or "Rietbrock's Farmstead" was located at Lengerich.

According to the Vital Statistics of the Church Records of Lengerich containing records of births, marriages and deaths we first hear of COLONUS RIETBROCK "auf der Riedebrockschen Stätte (Rietbrock's Farmstead) bei Lengerich in Westfalen", date of birth or death not given, as being the father of Johann Heinrich Rietbrock #1 "in der Stadt" (in the City) as reported in such Church Records, who was born on Martinmas-day (formerly Nov. 11th) A. D. 1715 at Lengerich. No further information about Colonus Rietbrock is available

APPENDIX

TABLE NINETEEN AND TWENTY

Among the names of the former residents and longest residents in the district, Germany (1871 to 1874)
the Prussian Government after the War of 1871-1872
some part of Prussia in 1871 and which were now cosidered in the Prussian Empire at present, there is no
this a document called "Kaiserliche Verordnung vom 12. April 1871" relating to the territory of the "Kaiserliche Reichsland (Kaiserliche Reichsland) (1871) (1871). It is there mentioned that the so-called "Kaiserliche Reichsland (Kaiserliche Reichsland) was located at present.
According to the first statistics of the Empire records of long-term residents of the Empire, Prussia
and there we find that of the "Kaiserliche Reichsland" Prussian Empire (Kaiserliche Reichsland) but located in Prussia, also of the Empire of Prussia, as being the father of Johann Heinrich Reichsland (1871) (1871) in the city as reported in such German records, who was born on September 11 (1871) at 11:15 A. M. 1871 at Langerhans.
In further information about Johann Reichsland is available except the record of another son Claas Rietbrock #2, mentioned as the father of another Johann Heinrich Rietbrock #21 (therefor a nephew of the first-named Johann Heinrich) born 6 Feb. 1756 of whom no further record is at hand.

The first-named Johann Heinrich Rietbrock #1, son of Colonus Rietbrock, is the progenitor of those branches of the family known to us. Of his life it is known that he went to Holland and worked there as a mason for some time and returned to Lengerich in 1747 where he founded the "Riedebrocksche Tobaks Fabrique" (Rietbrock's Tobacco Factory). His death is recorded as 30 April 1796 at Lengerich. Note that the family name generally accepted is RIETBROCK as given in the Church Records and that the variations "Riedbruch" and "Riedebrock" with its adjective form "Riedebrocksche" are probably due to verbal or oral corruptions of the vernacular Low German. During his sojourn in Holland he took unto himself a wife, Maria de Beck of Rotterdam, born there April or May 1719, Died at Lengerich 24 Sept. 1793, whose father was a "Meijsters Baas" (Master Mason probably). He evidently lived "in the City" of Lengerich the latter part of his life and not on the Farmstead and undoubtedly occupied the house at No. 119 Münsterstrasse where originally was also located the Tobacco Factory and later except the record of another son, Oliver, who was born in 1841, as the father of another son, John, who was born in 1841, a nephew of the first-named John, who was born in 1841, at about the same time as at home.

The first-named John, who was born in 1841, was of Oliver, who was the proprietor of the business of the family known to us. Of his life it is known that he went to Holland and worked there as a man for some time and returned as a migrant in 1841, where he located the "Hollanders" in the "Hollanders" (Hollanders' colony). His name is recorded on 30 April 1841 at Leiden. Note that the family was previously accepted in the church as given in the church records and that the children "Hollanders" and "Hollanders" with the names "Hollanders" and "Hollanders" are recorded in the records of the church in 1841.

During his return to Holland he was with himself a wife, Maria, who was of Holland, born there about 1841.

At Leiden on 24 Sept. 1841, whose father was a "Hollanders" (Hollanders' colony). He evidently lived "in the City" of Leiden the latter part of his life and not on the "Hollanders" and evidently owned the name of the "Hollanders" and later whose originally was also located the Hollanders' colony and later even to this day the Soap Factory that has been in the family and operated by members thereof until recently. Upon the death of Herman Albers #687 in 1925, and of Ernst Rietbrock #695 in 1929 the factory property was sold by their respective heirs (their widows) and is now owned by strangers but is still being operated under the name of "Seifen-fabrik H. Rietbrock Ge-gruendet 1807".

On the occasion of a trip to Europe by A. C. Rietbrock and wife in the year 1928 and a visit to Lengerich the birthplace and home of the Rietbrock Family, it was their pleasure to be conducted through the ancient factory buildings by Ernst Rietbrock #695, one of the owners and sole surviving male member of that name, meeting also his mother Anna (Kroner) Rietbrock and his aunt, Miss Luise Rietbrock #596, who with Erna Rietbrock #795 are the only other surviving persons of that name, and also her nephew Henry Albers #683 Attorney-at-Law and Magistrate of Tecklenburg with his estimable wife with whom a hurried visit was enjoyed.

According to Henry Albers, to whom we are indebted for most of the data and information about the family and our common ancestors in Germany, the old dwelling house at No. 119 Münsterstrasse, which is reported to have been built in 1768 and probably by the above named Johann Heinrich Rietbrock, he being a mason, still belongs to the former widow of Hermann Albers #687, deceased brother of Henry Albers, since married to druggist Klapproth of Hamburg. The old home with its timbered facade, its interesting stairways and numerous mysterious small rooms, together with extensive flower and vegetable gardens and vineyard, was most attractive and remain a fond recollection of his youthful days.

Most of the statements and data about the family register herein contained dating from about 1808 to 1830 are based upon the records as kept in the church register at Lengerich and in other details upon memoranda in an old book in the possession of Henry Albers made by Hermann Rietbrock beginning in 1808 as noted in his own handwriting on the first page and extending to 1830. This is the Hermann Heinrich Rietbrock #387 (born 1782, died 1834). Thereafter the record was continued until 1863 by Hermann Rudolph Rietbrock #487 (born 1819, died 1897). Much additional information and evidence in corroboration thereof was derived from and through Henry Rietbrock #691 who came to America about 1911 and from his grand-uncle the Rector Rietbrock, #482.

We find then that the said Johann Heinrich Rietbrock #1 (1715-1796) and his wife Maria de Beck, the Hollandaise, as the joint parents of the following children:-

deceased brother of Henry Albert, since married to Elizabeth Hignett of Hamburg. The old house with its finished facade, its interesting chimneys and numerous spacious small rooms, together with extensive flower and vegetable gardens and vineyard, was sold at public sale and became a part of the possessions of his private agent.
That of the estate was sold about the family.

neglected lands continued being from about 1808 to 1830 and passed upon the property as well in the survey register of 1830 and in other details upon numerous in an old book in the possession of Henry Albert son of Thomas Hignett residing in 1808 as well as his own residence on the first day and as-tending to 1830. This is the original plan of 1830 (born 1798, died 1834). Hignett's son sold the land with 1830 of Thomas Hignett (born 1817, died 1837).
This additional information and details in the original plan was derived from the original survey of 1830 and was in accordance with 1830 and from his own family the record of 1830, 1830.

It is also true that the old house was sold in 1830 (1830-1830) and also sold in 1830, the Hignett, as the last owner of the Hignett estate.

The original plan of 1830 is the original plan of 1830
and is the original plan of 1830.

- b. Wilhelm Rudolph Heinrich Albers #683 XX
Born 22 November 1881 in Ostfriesland.
Married 8 March 1912 to Hedwig Stoppenbrink of Oldenburg (Born 6 January 1882), no children.

This is our friend Heinrich Albers, Attorney at Law and since 1919 Notar and Commissioner of the District Court at Tecklenburg. Served his country from November 1915 to March 1917 in Russia and thereafter to November 1918 in France during the World War. Residing in Tecklenburg, this genial and active gentleman and his estimable wife, in the year 1928 extended hospitality at his home in a most picturesque setting of old Tecklenburg to A. C. Rietbrock and wife on a tour of Europe. We are indebted to him for most of the information and data about the family. His interest in researches of the family records is most intense.

- c. Rudolph Albers #685.
Born 12 May 1884 at Lengerich - Died 19 Feb. 1929.

 Died 24 September 1938.

He was a member of the Berlin, his wife, Maria, was the first Mayor of Berlin. He was married to his first wife in 1907.

As one of the so-called "Berlin" family of the "Berlin" family, he was married to his first wife in 1907. He was a member of the Berlin, his wife, Maria, was the first Mayor of Berlin. He was married to his first wife in 1907.

11. Wilhelm Albert 1881
 Born 1 December 1881.

*1. Johann Hermann Rietbrock #310. XX
Born 1 June 1802 at Lengerich      Died ----- Married to Anna Elizabeth Arends      (-----).

*2. Johann Christian Adolph Rietbrock #340.
Born 18 Feb. 1804 at Lengerich - Died 5 Aug. 1887.
(See next page).

*3. Johanna Rietbrock #355.      P-29. XX
Born -----      Died -----

Little is known of her except that she was the first wife of Edward Rudolph Bayer (page 29) of St. Louis Missouri U. S. A. a first cousin, being the son of her aunt Friederike #27 (of St. Louis group) and who married her after the death of her first husband named Burton.

*4. It is surmised that there was another sister by the name of Wilhelmine Rietbrock #350. There has been found among some old papers belonging to Fred Rietbrock (son of Johann Christian Adolph Rietbrock #340, a few pages of a loose-leaf autograph album belonging to his mother Christine, containing one page dated 27 Jan. 1827 before her marriage to Adolph Rietbrock, signed "Ihre Freundin" (your friend) Wilhelmine Rietbrock." This is most likely a sister of Adolph or maybe a cousin; probably one of near the same age as usual with autograph album owners, so not an aunt. But no other record of any Wilhelmine Rietbrock is known.

*5. Henriette Schroeder (nee' Rietbrock) #353.
Born -----      Died -----.

No direct information of her is at hand. Indirectly we find among the papers of E. Rudolph Bayer #373 of St. Louis a page of an autograph album supposed to belong to his mother Friederike Rietbrock Bayer written 25 Dec. 1827 signed "von deiner Schwester Henriette Schroeder, geborne Rietbrock" whereas his

It is further stated that there are another sister
by the name of Elizabeth (phonetic) 1930,
there has been found among some old records belonging to Fred Astor's son of John Astors (phonetic) 1930, a few pages of a 1000-1000, containing some belonging to his other children, containing one page dated 17 Jan. 1930, before her marriage to John Astors, signed "John Astors" (your friend) Elizabeth (phonetic). This is most likely a sister of John's or wife's cousin;
probably one of whom the wife was an aunt.
With reference to John's name, we find an aunt.
All no other record of any Elizabeth (phonetic) is known.

mother on that date must have been 60 to 70 years of age and that album keeping was more particularly the sport of younger people, so it more likely that said album leaf belonged to Bayers first wife Johanna, also a Rietbrock, who would in 1827 be perhaps 20 years of age. And a sister would be more nearly of her own age, causing us to conclude that Henriette was therefor probably a sister of Johanna rather than the older Friederike.

- *2. Johann Christian Adolph Rietbrock #340 (see page 12).
Born 17 Feb. 1804 at Lengerich Died 5 Aug. 1887
at Milwaukee, Wis. U. S. A.

Married 11 September 1827 at Burg Steinfurth, Westphalia to Christine Koch (born at Zoest 8 March 1806, died at Burlington Wisconsin U. S. A. 9 December 1883.)

After a previous visit in America in 1834 he migrated from Lengerich with his family to that country in 1837 and, though a goldsmith by trade, settled at New Munster, Kenosha County, Wisconsin, on land acquired from the government, establishing a farm that was operated and owned by some of his descendants until recently. In the latter sixties he moved to Milwaukee where he lived a number of years with the exception of an interval of several years in California returning to live with his married daughter Elizabeth near Burlington, Wis., not far from his original farm. After the death of his wife in Dec. 1883 he again went to Milwaukee where he died 5 August 1887. Their Golden Wedding was celebrated on 11 September 1877 at the Kärcher farm near Burlington. Both he and his wife are buried at the Burlington Cemetery. They left a large family of four daughters, all married, and one son, Fred Rietbrock, the only one to carry on the name. See biographical sketch of Frederick Rietbrock #440 on page 19.

Their descendants are:-

- A. Johann Christian Adolph Rietbrock, Jr., #401.
Born 8 March 1829 in Germany Died 5 May 1829.
- X B. Elisabeth M--C--Rietbrock #420.
Born 26 June, 1830 Died 9 July 1911.

Married 10 March 1850 to John Karcher of Town Bloomfield, Walworth County, Wis., - lived on their farm near Burlington all her life. Observed their Golden Wedding 10 March 1900, and on 10 March 1910 their Sixtieth Anniversary, a large attendance of relatives and friends being present.

mother an first date must have been 60 or 70 years of age and first child keeping was more particularly the point of youngest record, so it more likely that with some last belonged to Henry first wife Thomas, also a Wisconsin, who would in 1857 be about 30 years of age, and a sister would be more likely of her own age, assuming as to assume that Thomas was brother probably a sister of Thomas rather than the other children.

Thomas Christian Adair (last name 1857)
born 17 Feb. 1804 at Lexington died 5 Aug. 1887
at Milwaukee, Wis. U. S. A.

Married 11 September 1837 at Burg Steinbach, Westphalia to Christina Koon (born at Soest 8 March 1806, died at Burlington Wisconsin 11, 12, 3 November 1877).

After a previous visit in 1834 he migrated from Germany with his family to that country in 1837 and settled in Wisconsin, settled at New Munster, Kane County, Wisconsin, on land acquired from the government, establishing a farm that was operated and owned by some of his descendants until recently. In the later times he moved to Wisconsin where he lived a number of years with the assistance of an interest in several farms in California returning to live with his nephew August Wilhelm and Burlington, Wis., not the two his original farm. After the death of his wife in 1857 he again went to Milwaukee where he died 5 August 1887. Their oldest son was called born on 11 September 1837 at the same place near Burlington, Wis. he and his wife were buried at the Burlington Cemetery. They had a large family of four daughters, all married, and one son, Fred William, who only one to carry on the name. See biographical sketch of Frederick William Adair on page 12.

FREDERICK RIETBROCK

For more than forty years Frederick Rietbrock was closely identified with legal practice in Milwaukee. He was a lawyer of ability, to whom was accorded an extensive practice that gave him well merited prominence, and at the same time he conducted business interests which featured largely in the development, upbuilding and prosperity of the state. Born in Kenosha County, Wisconsin, April 6, 1839, he was a son of Adolph and Christina (Koch) Rietbrock, both of whom were natives of Germany. Coming to the United States in 1832, the father travelled extensively over this country, after which he returned to Germany and brought his family to the new world in 1837, making his way direct to Kenosha County. They were among

FREDERICK WISNIEWSKI

For some time before Frederick Wisniewski was officially identified with legal practice in Milwaukee. He was a lawyer of ability, to whom was accorded an extensive practice that gave him well merited prominence, and of the same time he conducted business interests which largely in the development, organizing and promoting of the state. Born in Keweenaw County, Wisconsin, April 8, 1840, he was a son of Adam and Christina (Koch) Wisniewski, both of whom were natives of Germany. Coming to the United States in 1847, the family resided at Keweenaw over the winter, after which he returned to Germany and brought his family to the new world in 1847, settling the very first in Keweenaw County. They were among

The early settlers of southeastern Wisconsin taking up their abode there at a time when Indians roamed over the country, many years passing before the red men left that locality. Adolph Rietbrock was a goldsmith by trade, but like many others who came into this new district, he turned to farming as a more lucrative occupation and was thus engaged until 1870, when he retired from active life. He passed away July 23, 1887, having for about four years survived his wife, who died in 1883.

Frederick Rietbrock attended the public schools until graduated from high school, after which he entered the University of Michigan for the study of law, and won his LL. B. degree from that institution in 1865. In the same year he began active practice in Milwaukee, continuing a prominent, able and honored member of the bar of this city until his death on the 23rd of July, 1906. He was associated in practice with C. E. Martin until 1870, when he formed a partnership with D. H. Johnson, and in 1877 L. W. Halsey became a member of the firm. In 1888 Mr. Johnson was elected circuit judge and the two remaining partners were thereafter in business together until 1900, when Mr. Halsey was appointed to the bench as the successor of Judge Johnson. At that time Mr. Rietbrock admitted his son, Adolph C., to a partnership, which was maintained until the death of the father, who long held a high position among the leading lawyers of this city. He devoted much thought and study in the preparation of his cases and in argument was felicitous, strong and convincing, winning many verdicts favorable to the interests of his clients. In the '70s he purchased land grants and tax titles to thousands of acres of land in central Wisconsin and was an important factor in the development of this section of the state. While Judges Johnson and Halsey were his partners in the practice of the law, they were also his partners in the land and lumber business. Together the three purchased additional holdings and the firm carried on colonization work, aid being given to desirable settlers. Mr. Rietbrock engaged extensively in dairying which remains the chief industry of Wisconsin today, he having developed the Guernsey Yokua Sunbeam, the first cow of any breed to produce one thousand pounds of butter in a year. His efforts thus constituted an important element in the steady development and progress of the state. Mr. Rietbrock had a membership with the American Guernsey Cattle Club and the National Live Stock Association.

The early history of Wisconsin's up their heads of a fine man
the country, many years that locality. This found. But like many others who came into the new state, he turned to farming as a more profitable occupation and was there engaged until 1870, when he returned to state. He passed away July 23, 1897, leaving four years survived his wife, who died in 1887.

Frederick Johnson attended the public schools until graduated from high school, after which he entered the University of Wisconsin for the study of law, and was his LL. B. degree from that institution in 1880. In the same year he began active practice in Wisconsin, continuing a general, civil and criminal lawyer of the bar of 1880
and until his death on the 23rd of July, 1897.
He was associated in practice with J. T. Johnson until 1870, when he formed a partnership with A. W. Johnson, and in 1877 J. T. Johnson became a member of the law firm of Johnson, Johnson and Johnson. In 1888 Mr. Johnson was elected circuit judge and the two remaining years were spent in that office. In 1890, when Mr. Johnson was elected to the bench as the successor of Judge Johnson, at that time Mr. Johnson admitted his son, John O., to a partnership, when was maintained until the death of the father, who long held a high position among the leading lawyers of the state. He devoted much thought and study in the preparation of his cases and in argument was respected, strong and convincing, winning many victories favorable to the interests of his clients. In 1890 he purchased land given and was elected to the office of judge of law in central Wisconsin and was an important factor in the development of this section of the state.
While Judge Johnson and his wife were his partners in the practice of the law, they were also his partners in the land and lumber business. Together the three purchased additional property and the firm owned a collection worth, and being given to his wife's estate. Mr. Johnson engaged extensively in carrying which remains the old industry of Wisconsin today. He having developed the Quincy Lake business, the first row of any kind to grow from one thousand acres of water in a year. His wife was considered an important figure in the early development and progress of the state. Mr. Johnson had a son-born with the American business family and was National Live Stock Association.

In 1901 he acquired the interests of Messrs. Johnson and Halsey and with his son and both sons-in-law, organized the Rietbrock Land and Lumber Company, of which he remained President to the time of his death.

On February 4, 1866, Mr. Rietbrock was married in Milwaukee to Miss Helen M. Peters, who was born in Amsterdam, Holland, December 15, 1837, and passed away Feb. 5, 1901. Their family numbered a son and two daughters, of whom Adolph C. Rietbrock is mentioned on another page of this work. Marianna became the wife of William L. Erbach and died in 1915. Christina is the wife of William C. Klann, Secretary of the Rietbrock Company.

In politics Mr. Rietbrock was a lifelong Democrat and took a keen interest in the leading questions and issues of the day. In the early '70's he was active in campaign work, was chairman of the county committee for several years and served as district attorney for one term, but preferred to give the major part of his time and attention to his private practice and to his business interests. He was a member of the Old Settlers' Club, the Milwaukee Sharpshooters Society, the Pine Lake Yacht Club of which he was Commodore for several years, and the Germania Society; in connection with his profession was a member of the Milwaukee Bar Association. His sterling traits of character gained for him the warm friendship of the majority of those with whom he came in contact.

III. Friederike Rietbrock #27. (-----)

Up to the present time we have no record of her birth or death, nor of her parentage except by inference. Married _____ date _____ to _____ father of E. R. Bayer. We only know that about the year 1876 one Edward Rudolph Bayer of St. Louis made a trip to Milwaukee to look up some relatives by the name of Rietbrock, and located Mr. Fred Rietbrock and his father, J. C. Adolph Rietbrock, and upon comparing notes it developed that Rudolph Bayer and Adolph Rietbrock were first cousins, both hailing from Lengerich, Westphalia. Further that Bayer's mother was Friederike Rietbrock an aunt of Adolph and thus a sister of his father, Friedrich Rietbrock. Another relationship was disclosed in that Rudolph Bayer's first wife previous to 1866 was Johanna Rietbrock #355, p. 12 the sister of Adolph and therefore also his first cousin, who had been previously married to one Burton. No record of her birth in Lengerich has come to us.
